

Sociometry: The Network of Connectedness

A Psychodrama Training Weekend
May 22-24, 2015

This 3-day Training will explore the nature, quality and quantity of human connection. We will explore issues of feeling chosen, unchosen, rejected, invisible, isolated or having star status. We invite you to come join us in discovering and resurfacing the strengths and possible woundings we have learned and absorbed from being in social groups.

Come grow professionally and expand intellectually with a supportive, stimulating community of learners; Students will have input into specific areas of study and will have numerous opportunities for directing action pieces.

Group and Individual Case Supervision will be provided on Sunday morning using psychodramatic and other action methods. If you are interested in additional supervision/consultation, please let us know.

Training is open to professionals and students in the fields of mental health, law, substance abuse and recovery, creative arts therapies, religion, human services, personnel management, group facilitation and education.

20 training hours may be applied toward certification by the American Board of Examiners. CEUs for MFT and LCSW are also available.
