

Law and Ethics in Action: A One-Day Workshop Using Experiential Methods

Meets BBS Law and Ethics Requirement
Saturday, September 12, 2015

What does ethical behavior mean to you? How do you make decisions when the law is not clear? What are the subtleties of ethical behavior and what are the personal values we bring to that process? In this workshop we will explore these questions and others we encounter daily, as we bring ethical and legal dilemmas to life through action methods drawn from psychodrama and sociodrama.

You will have the opportunity to:

- Increase your knowledge about ethics while having fun in the process.
- Develop your skills in problem-solving regarding ethical issues.
- Strengthen your ability to assess ethical issues which arise in both private practice and institutional settings.
- Explore the personal values that inform your ethical choices

Explore legal and ethical decisions, using action methods to help them come alive!
